

Honor an Older Generation, While Inspiring the Next... Support the Century Club!

“As I think back over the years, it is the concept of teamwork that I have found most satisfying. In most athletic endeavors that older people pursue, e.g. golf, tennis, swimming, cycling, the effort is purely individual. Dressage requires one to accommodate his or her abilities to that of a horse. When that is done successfully, there is no better feeling.” – John Claridge (PA) with Clockwork, Team #72

The Dressage Foundation's Century Club honors horse and rider teams whose combined ages equal 100 or more years. The Century Club members are so important; they encourage us to continue riding as we age, they teach us about the importance of fitness for our senior horses, they inspire equestrians across disciplines and across the country.

Since 1996, The Dressage Foundation has proudly supported the Century Club by giving each new team a commemorative plaque and also, in more recent years, a Century Club ribbon. In the past few years, the Century Club has experienced dramatic growth and we expect the same for 2014 and beyond.

Since the increased popularity of the Century Club also means increased costs to us, we have come to a time when we are in need of some financial help in order to continue this program.

We are asking you, our friends, to consider helping us by supporting the Century Club this year.

Your sponsorship of $100 or more ensures that another senior horse and rider team will be recognized for their accomplishment by providing the necessary funds for a plaque, ribbon, the production of our annual Century Club booklet, and administrative expenses associated with the continuation of the program.

Please take a moment to review the enclosed information and let me know if you have any questions. I hope that you will help us honor our senior friends this year!

Cordially,

Jenny Johnson

“It will be great if just one rider decides he isn’t going to fall into a rut of becoming ‘old’ because he reads the Century Club stories” – Ellen Newman and Diana (WI), Team #83
